

Join us!
8.22.24

Taking Action for our Marshes

Since 2019, The Wetlands Institute scientists and our partners in the Seven Mile Island Innovation Lab – the US Army Corps of Engineers and NJDEP – have been monitoring and evaluating local salt marshes, and developing and deploying innovative solutions to increase their resilience in the face of rapidly rising seas.

This fall, the project team is bringing a much-needed marsh enhancement project home to the marshes at Cape May Coastal Wetlands Wildlife Management Area, adjacent to The Wetlands Institute. On Thursday, August 22, 2024, I invite you to join us for a special presentation on our upcoming project to elevate these local marshes to enhance marsh health and offset sea level rise.

Please join us!

Lenore

When

Thursday, August 22, 2024
From 5:30PM to 6:30PM

Where

The Wetlands Institute
1075 Stone Harbor Blvd.
Stone Harbor, NJ, 08247

